“THE TWO SONS of [my relatives] who are pretty much my age... three weeks ago, they were sitting in a classroom, getting ready to go on spring break or who knows what. And now they're running for their lives.”

“A COUPLE WEEKS back, Mrs. Fossoh was trying to... explain what's happened. And like half the class was just really just tuned out on their phones, sitting there, blank look, not paying any attention. Most people... don't have any kind of connection or they're like, 'Oh, it's Europe. What does it matter to me?' But I also think some people just don't like the hard truth.”
